Overpass on schedule

Construction of an overpass on 19th Street between West Granite City and downtown should reach the bidding stage by the end of January, 1979, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

Schuler told the council that about $3,248,000 of the estimated $5,333,135 needed for the project has been identified and numerous sources are being checked for the remaining funds needed.

"I feel we can get this money from our able Congressmen and Senators, both in the U.S. and state legislatures. A U.S. Congress bill is possible which could help us and the state has been very gracious in getting more from the railroads."

"I don't think we should have too much trouble raising such a paltry sum as $2 million," Schuler said, somewhat "tongue-in-cheek." "I really don't see any reason for alarm," he stated on a more serious note.

"Time is getting short. I feel we can let bids end of January, 1979. That's our schedule and I see no reason to wear from it," Schuler added.

Alderman Everett "Cherry" Morlen said that if funds cannot be found, the city would have the option to sell bonds to finance the project. Schuler responded, "That's always possible."

A letter was read from Attorney Randall Robertson, who is handling the city's legal work in connection with the overpass, in which he detailed the sources of funding identified thus far.

Robertson notes in the letter that the Illinois Commerce Commission has accepted the project, as proposed, and its price.

He said the commission has accepted the possibility of the city obtaining a $1.4 million federal grant and has ordered the payment of up to $1,711,045 from a grade crossing protection fund of motor fuel taxes.

In addition, the railroads involved have been ordered jointly to pay $137,155, or five percent of the proposed cost of the two-lane overpass.

Railroads also will be ordered to fund certain work under orders of the commission, entitled "force account work" which will reduce the amount of work the city will have to pay for, Robertson explained.

He said the commission found the force account proposals submitted by the railroads to be "inconsistent, speculative and duplicative and to have included items not necessarily required for construction of the grade separation structure and items which will result in improvements to the facilities of, and or savings to railroad respondents," in the commission's words.

The city has several obligations and deadlines to meet, the letter noted.

The construction contractors hired by the city must furnish railroad protective liability insurance. The city must notify the ICC and each railroad involved within 18 months of the June 28, 1978, ICC order of its ability to finance the remaining portions of the overpass, or the ICC order will be nullified.

The city also must notify the ICC within three years of the order of its ability to complete the construction. Robertson said the wording of this requirement is vague, but he believes it means the city has three years to complete construction.

He added the city is required

Asks probe to 'clear air' in sheriff's department

Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City Tuesday requested that the board's legislative committee initiate an investigation of the county sheriff's department, in light of allegations made at a recent federal trial that some deputies may have been involved in taking payoffs for towing firms and possibly taverns which housed prostitution.

Madison Alderman Ronald Graywacz, suspended Madison police Sgt. Richard Krieshek, and former Madison police Edward Goclan were convicted earlier this month by a federal jury on charges of racketeering and perjury.

During the trial, Sheriff John Maeras and his chief of field operations, Capt. John Cooper, declined to testify, saying they would invoke their Fifth Amendment rights against self-incrimination, if called to testify.

One deputy admitted accepting small payoffs from a towing firm and allegations were made against several others during the trial.

Tuesday, Partney said the allegations should be investigated further by the county, "to clear the air for the sheriff's department and for the county."

He suggested such an investigation may lead to calling for a study by the Sheriff's Department Merit Commission on several officers.

Charles Bode, buildings committee chairman, showed an appraisal done for the county by Ray Rogers of Edwardsville, who estimated the value as rental property at $730,000, and at $836,000 for commercial use. The property also includes 70 parking spaces.

The building was purchased by the county on a 17 to seven vote from the Cassens family business interests in Edwardsville, who formerly sold the Bank of Edwardsville property to the county.

Currently, the building houses the Manpower office, the Madison County Council on Alcoholism & Drug Dependency, and the Cassens' family firm of State Security Insurance. It has 20,000 square feet.

The county intends to lease space it does not use, a plan which was assailed by Board Member Michael Semanisin as "putting the county in the real estate business."

Voting against the purchase was Roger Elbie, H. Jack Frandsen, James E. Greene, Homer Henke, Dan Partney, Semanisin and Lawrence Speelman.

Grocery executive is slain at store

Vance Morgan, 44, of 1665 Clark Ave., executive vice-president of Tri-City Grocery Co., was shot to death by a disgruntled employee in the grocery chain's East St. Louis store at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday.

East St. Louis police are holding Jimmy Lee Drummond, 31, East St. Louis, produce manager of the store at 46th and State streets in East St. Louis, on a charge of murder.

Police said evidence indicates that Tri-City officials suspended Drummond from his job for ignoring orders not to use the company telephone for personal calls and were considering firing him.

Drummond was notified about 11 a.m. Tuesday he was suspended and he returned about noon to plead that he not be fired, police were told.

Drummond then left, but returned about 2:15 p.m. and talked to Mr. Morgan and Rex Cress of Godfrey, a retail supervisor at the store. He then went outside and Mr. Morgan and Cress followed him through the front door, officers related.

Witnesses said Drummond showed a pistol, aimed it at the two store officials and ordered them back inside the store. Mr. Morgan attempted repeatedly to convince Drummond not to shoot as Cress managed to walk away from them, police were told.

When Mr. Morgan realized Drummond was about to shoot, the victim turned and started to run and one shot was fired, it was alleged. The bullet entered Mr. Morgan's right arm and then lodged in his chest, according to authorities.

Drummond then allegedly chased Cress to the back of the store, but lost sight of him and then went to the front of the store, left through the front doors and drove away in his wife's car.

A store employee obtained the car's license number and East St. Louis police went to the home where Drummond surrendered without incident at 3:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Drummond told police he threw the gun in weeds west of the store, where officers later found a .32-caliber revolver.

Mr. Morgan was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis where he was pronounced dead at 3:03 p.m.

Mr. Morgan was promoted in December to the Tri-City Grocery vice-president post and was named to the company's board of directors.

A graduate of Palmer College in Davenport, Iowa, Mr. Morgan served for two years on active duty in the U.S. Army. He worked for Tri-City Grocery three years while in high school and was re-employed in 1958 as grocery manager in the company's Lisle Village supermarket.

He had been a grocery supervisor since 1961.

He was a lifelong resident of Granite City.

Mrs. Morgan was a member of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

He was a veteran of the Korean conflict.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Suzanne (Anderson) Morgan; two daughters, Mrs. James (Linda) Sandbach of Wood River and Miss Ann Morgan of Granite City; one brother, Jerry Morgan and sister, Mrs. Thomas (Sarah) Pope; his mother, Mrs. Lily Morgan, all of Granite City.

His father, Vance G. Morgan, died in 1954.

Funeral services are this afternoon. Details are given in the obituary column.

Three cars collide as child falls from auto

Four-year-old Amy Glass of 3047 Washington Ave., was injured when she fell out the door of her mother's moving car and was run over by a rear tire in the 2500 block of Madison Avenue at 1:05 p.m. Monday.

The city also must notify the ICC within three years of the order of its ability to complete the construction. Robertson said the wording of this requirement is vague, but he believes it means the city has three years to complete construction.

Police said Mrs. Glass stopped her northbound car suddenly after the child fell out the door of the vehicle or the child and crossed the center line, colliding head-on with the southbound car of Elmer Ohm, 3000 Dale Ave.

Roling's auto then returned to the northbound lane where it collided with the car of Benjamin Bosworth, 1685 Second St., Madison, police related.

Slim margin kills move to hike expense funds

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Council Tuesday night deadlocked on a proposal to double the monthly expense allocations of the aldermen from $50 to $100, leaving Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler to break the tie with a negative vote.

With two aldermen absent, the council members tied 6-6 in voting on a motion by Alderman Charles Douglas that the expense allocations be doubled and that the budget for aldermen's expenses be increased from $5,400 to $10,800.

The proposal followed detailed discussion of the city's tentative budgets, which Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the finance committee, contended had been "trimmed to the bone."

Responding to Douglas' motion, Bowler stated, "I think that's disgusting." Alderman Glen Sprankle seconded Douglas' motion and Schuler called for a vote.

Douglas, Sprankle, Warren Decatur, Lloyd Bailey, Ron Coleman and Mrs. Margaret Nonn voted in favor of the increase.

Voting against it were Everett "Cherry" Morlen, Sam Whitmer, Clyde Boyd, Roy Poulos and Fred "Pat" Schuman and Bowler.

Schuler then declared, "Motion defeated," which City Clerk Robert W. Stevens said he considered a tie-breaking negative vote and entered it in the minutes as such.

Some aldermen privately contended Schuler did not actually vote and the defeat of the motion was, therefore, illegal.

Since both Sixth Ward Aldermen, Gerald "Jerry" Parmley and Earl Baker, were absent, it is believed another attempt to increase the expense allowance for aldermen will be made at the council's next meeting.

Buy $800,000 building

The Madison County Board voted Wednesday morning to purchase the former Illinois Department of Public Aid office at 130 Hillsboro St., Edwardsville for $800,000 for county office space.

Seven board members voted against the purchase, terming it overpriced, too far from the county courthouse, and a purchase which may jeopardize possible construction of a new county office building in the future.

The county, already in a space-squeeze, increased its efforts to find new space after the Lindsay-Schaub Illinois, Inc., owner of the Edwardsville Intelligence, announced it was increasing the rent of the building next to the Intelligence to the county from $500 per month to $1,250 per month, effective Aug. 1.

The building houses the county's family and small claims divisions and has a courtroom and office for Associate Judges Clayton Williams and George Filloff.

Last month, the county voted against renewing its lease with Lindsay-Schaub, rather than pay the increased rental.

The proposal to purchase the building on Hillsboro Street was not on the board's agenda Wednesday, but was presented on a divided recommendation from the county buildings committee.

Board members commented at the meeting on an allegation by a newspaper that the building is valued only at $276,360, according to its assessed valuation ($92,120, which is one-third of the market value), and that the county was paying more than 2½-times its value.

Charles Bode, buildings committee chairman, showed an appraisal done for the county by Ray Rogers of Edwardsville, who estimated the value as rental property at $730,000, and at $836,000 for commercial use. The property also includes 70 parking spaces.

The building was purchased by the county on a 17 to seven vote from the Cassens family business interests in Edwardsville, who formerly sold the Bank of Edwardsville property to the county.

Currently, the building houses the Manpower office, the Madison County Council on Alcoholism & Drug Dependency, and the Cassens' family firm of State Security Insurance. It has 20,000 square feet.

The county intends to lease space it does not use, a plan which was assailed by Board Member Michael Semanisin as "putting the county in the real estate business."

Voting against the purchase was Roger Elbie, H. Jack Frandsen, James E. Greene, Homer Henke, Dan Partney, Semanisin and Lawrence Speelman.

To close rail crossing 2 weeks

The Route 203 (Edwardsville Road) rail crossing near 20th Street will be closed for two weeks by the Alton and Southern Railroad beginning Aug. 22 while the crossing is rebuilt.

The scheduled reopening will be Sept. 11, but could be about two days earlier, if weather permits, the railroad notified the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

Alderman Glen Sprankle

Postal Service 'ready' if strike comes tonight

"I guess we'll just sweat it out and see what happens," Granite City Postmaster Herbert Backs said this morning, replying to questions concerning a possible strike by postal workers at midnight today.

"We have all kinds of contingency plans, in the event it (strike) happens, but nothing we can discuss," Backs added.

A third union, the Mail Labor and management negotiations reportedly failed again Wednesday to agree on a new contract, heading off a possible strike by postal employees.

The present contract expires at midnight Thursday, but both labor and management have said they doubt a nationwide walkout will be called. The heads of some union locals have threatened to strike, however.

It is going to be a nip and tuck all the way, a source close to the talks stated Wednesday, adding that sessions probably would intensify as the deadline approached. Employees at the Granite City Post Office are members of the Letter Carriers Union and the American Postal Workers Union, the largest labor organization among postal workers.

2,500 women teachers to convene

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Represented at The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International convention in Chicago, beginning Sunday, will be women teachers from all 50 states, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, seven provinces of Canada, Norway, Sweden, Mexico, Finland, Iceland, the Netherlands, Guatemala, England and El Salvador.

More than 2,500 women in all areas of education from nursery school — kindergarten through professors and administrators are expected to convene at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, under the leadership of Nadine M. Ewing, international president.

Members of Beta Eta, Alpha Eta and Gamma Epsilon chapters, all of Madison County, are planning to attend.

The local women will take part in a special musical program on "Illinois Night," under the direction of Mrs. Ita Lowery, international music chairman.

The script for the musical was written by Mrs. Birdine Groshong of Beta Eta Chapter.

Founded in 1929, the society has expanded to become the largest organization for women teachers in the world.

Today there are 145,000 members in 11 countries and the group has spent more than $1 million helping the teachers to pursue goals in higher education and to gain specific qualifications.

A portion of the $1 million is expended to bring women from other countries to the United States for special study under the World Fellowship program.

Through the Delta Kappa Gamma Educational Foundation, members assist Navajo Community College in Tsaile, Ariz., by supplying a teacher of English and offering several scholarships, making it possible for Indian students to attend universities.

The foundation also pays the salary of a librarian for the new Micosukue Library on the Tamiimi Trail, north of Miami, Fla.

The Micosukue Indians are a little known tribe of native Americans who live in the Everglades.

The society encourages its members to seek first-hand experiences with other cultures through a travel-study program.

Since 1963, it has co-sponsored seminars all over the world with Dr. Gerald H. Read of Kent State University, and over 7,000 members have participated in one or more of the seminars in remote parts of the world.

In 2,577 chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma there are programs of continuing education taking place.

Through these programs the personal and professional growth of members is stimulated and they are encouraged to participate in action programs which upgrade their education.

A variety of professional workshops will be conducted during the convention week.

Nancy Dickerson, who became known through her work with "Face the Nation" on the CBS television network, will be the banquet speaker at the society's convention.

Miss Dickerson became the first woman news correspondent on a national television network in 1960 and has been active, both politically and socially, in Washington for many years.

About 200 Delta Kappa Gamma Members attended a "Seminar in Purposeful Living," conducted in Stockholm, Sweden, which concluded earlier this month.

Many of the members also visited England and the Scandinavian countries before and after the seminar, it was learned.

The annual convention will conclude Sunday, July 30.

Teacher hirings, leaves ok'd by GC school board

The Granite City Board of Education agreed to reconsider action taken at an earlier meeting concerning three teachers who requested leaves of absence for one year.

Board members approved leaves to Joyce Curran, Karen Rose and Phyllis McMillan and also to Frances Marilynn McMillan, Linda Logan, Christy Hoff, Lucille Delany for one semester.

Resignations were accepted with regrets from Robert Bergen, resource teacher at Niedringhaus School, effective this month; Ralph Spieck, custodian at Johnson School who will be on permanent disability effective Aug. 1, and Dona Clary, home economics teacher at South High School, who is relocating, effective Aug. 1.

In preparation for the opening of school the board hired Jim Greenwald as a physical education teacher at Emerson School for the 1978-79 school year and three home economics teachers for one semester.

They include Joyce Allen and Nancy Legate who will be assigned to North High School, and Mary Jo Luss who is to teach at South High School.

Board members also voted to create two teacher assistant positions in special education. Both will require the applicants to be trained in hand sign language for deaf students.

One class is at Johnson School in the area of oral deaf and the other class which has been at Johnson School is to transfer to Coolidge Junior High School. Assistants are needed for teachers in both classes.

Parents teacher conferences for the 1978-79 school year will be held on Nov. 2 and March 22, 1979 at the school calendar. Approval also was given to Leigh Heller to conduct a two day parent conference days scheduled during the forthcoming year, for elementary school physical education teachers.

An application for an in-service day on Nov. 2, to explore ways of training school personnel in first aid procedures, and another in-service day on March 22 for nurses and speech therapists to provide more comprehensive services to hearing-impaired children as requested by school nurses Ruth McCarty and Betty Bartels, was approved by the board.

The board also approved application under the "Handicapped Children Act," on the request of Larry R. Dew, director, to provide free appropriate public education to every known handicapped child, including those attending parochial schools, by Sept. 1, in the Quad-City area.

The proposed application is for $206,850 in federal money which will be received during the 1978-79 school year in monthly payments, and $73,920 in state reimbursement which would be paid quarterly in the 1979-80 school year.

A Metric Education in-service day is scheduled Sept. 12, as a day of study for the school institute held in June at which time 25 certificated personnel became qualified as metric trainers.

Board approval was granted for the metric in-service day which will be held at each elementary center and at the secondary level. All junior and senior high school personnel will meet at South High School auditorium for an introductory session. Following the assembly, separate sessions will be held for elementary and secondary level.

The board also agreed to allow Carol Wold Farnsworth, and Karen Bauer Reynolds, who are both registered nurses with baccalaureate degrees, to serve internships in the Granite City school system.

They will be under the supervision of school nurses who will be asked to participate in the program which is for nine months at no salary to the interns or cost to the district.

Volunteer nurses include Betty Bartels, Ruth McCarty and Nancy Graf.

Threatens mother, child with knife

A 26-year-old Granite City woman was awakened at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday by a heavyset man standing over her, who demanded money, then sexual favors and threatened to cut her 2-year-old daughter if she failed to comply.

The man, described as tall, heavyset with a "beery" look, and in his late 20's, displayed a pocket knife to the victim when she replied she had no money and refused his sexual requests.

He then threatened to cut her young child with the knife if she resisted.

The mother began suffling with the assailant and a cut on the right index finger.

The man left by a rear door, which had been forced to gain entry into the dwelling. He wore a green T-shirt and cutoff blue jeans, the victim said.

2 charges against GC man

A 19-year-old Granite City man is charged with two counts of aggravated battery in information documents issued Wednesday afternoon by the Madison County State's Attorney's office.

Larry W. Catterson, 19, of 1901 State St., Apt. 4, was arrested at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the 200 block of Washington Avenue after he allegedly:

Struck a woman at a house he was visiting; threw the family dog across the room, hitting the refrigerator and injuring the animal which was unable to move; and another woman at the house on the head with a piece of dresser; and was hit by the woman in return, knocking Catterson outside the door.

He then ran away.

Catterson reportedly met Jack Cochran, 36, of 2030 Washington Ave., walking along the street and attacked him with a baseball bat. He also punched him in the face, according to police.

Cochran reported he ran to the house.

meeting Tuesday night, before the budget is finally passed.

The city's budget must be approved next week and legally published.

Aldermen currently draw, in addition to the $50 per month for expenses, $75 for each meeting attended and $10 for each town board meeting they attend.

Since most months have three regular council meetings and two brief town board meetings, aldermen now average about $280 per month. Doubling the expense allowance would increase that to $545 per month, plus $75 each for special meetings.

"That's not enough for all the time and work we have to do, and the aggravation involved. I visited three homes yesterday alone in my ward," Coleman said after the meeting in explaining his yes vote.

Other aldermen contended councilmen in nearby cities, including Madison, receive more compensation, although they have fewer constituents each.

The railroads will have to barricade the crossing when closed and complete any signal or communication line work necessary for the construction.

Robertson suggested the ICC order be accepted by the city, unless the railroads file for a rehearing within 30 days of the order.

EVERYONE WAS ENTERTAINED at the American Heritage Bank last week as the 140 persons attending view a presentation by Fred Stroud and his

Jon Teague, Nancy Miller, Ruth McClean and Jane Knight. The awards were made during a family night program at the bank.

American Heritage bank has annual family night

American Heritage Bank, Felling and Johnson Roads, held its annual family night at the bank last week.

In attendance were directors, officers and employees of the bank and their families. A total of 140 persons enjoyed the festivities in the bank lobby.

Following the invocation given by the Rev. Dave Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, a buffet dinner was served.

In his welcoming remarks, Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman and president of the bank, commented on the rapid growth of the bank's "family" in the past few years. He explained how a bank essentially is a group of people giving financial service; and how American Heritage's growth and success has been due to the continuing efforts of all the employees working on behalf of the bank.

Service awards were given to employees for their years of employment. One-year awards were received by Jan Hamilos, Mary Kee, Nancy Miller and Jon Teague; five-year awards were received by Jane Knight and Ruth McClean; ten-year awards were received by Carolyn Kopp, Ruth Crow and Helen Kutosky; Helen Mangoff received her award for 15 years of service.

Following the service awards, the entertainment was announced and the show began. The Fred Stroud Show (Fred Stroud and Wife) was a variety entertainment including ventriloquism, balloon sculpting and comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Stroud are Granite City residents and their show business experience goes back to the days of vaudeville.

The show ended with gifts distributed to the children. Henry Karandjeff closed the evening by thanking the employees and their families for attending the party and for being a member of the "American Heritage Family."

84 Lumber has 17 new outlets

84 Lumber Co., which opened its first retail "cash and carry" lumber business in 1957 has announced that in the first half of 1978, it has opened 17 new outlets. 84 has plans to open an additional 33 stores during the second half of 1978. The firm has an outlet in this area at Route 111 and State Aid Route 35.

"84's success is a result of being aware that the consumer is willing to pay cash when substantial savings can be realized," commented a company spokesman. "Credit is expensive and these savings are passed onto our customers. In addition 84's no frills approach to mass merchandising also means additional savings for the customer. Stores are built as basic warehouse-showrooms without carpeting, air conditioning or fancy fixtures."

"It took 20 years to open our first 200 stores, but it will take just two years to open our next 200. We are, today, the fastest growing retail lumber chain in America and we plan to step up our expansion rate. By 1984 we will have 500 outlets," the spokesman said.

"Constant expansion means greater opportunity for 84 associates and opportunity is what attracts the caliber of people needed to staff a growth operation. 84 will need 50 new managers and 100 new co-managers in 1978. All these promotions will come from within. However, new people will be needed to fill these vacancies."

84 now operates five regional offices, Jacksonville, Fla.; Denver, Colo.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Chicago, Ill.; and its newest office, Baltimore, Md. Presently there are 220 outlets in 35 states.

Nameoki police to continue

The Nameoki Volunteer Police Unit's squad car will continue operating after tomorrow's deadline for payment of insurance, a spokesman assured the Press-Record Tuesday.

While the unit must pay a $700 insurance premium by tomorrow, the spokesman said about $500 already has been raised and will be used for a partial payment to keep the squad car operating.

A car wash will be held Saturday which, the police hope, will raise the remaining $200 so full payment for the insurance can be made Monday.

"We are sure that with the partial payment, they will keep us insured a few days while we raise the rest. We will make it," the spokesman said.

Anyone wishing to help the department is being urged to have his car washed Saturday at the Pontoon Mobil, Highway 111 and Pontoon Road, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

SUIT AGAINST GRANITE

Nina Jean Oliver has filed a $25,000 suit against Granite City, stemming from a July 4, 1976, accident at Kirkpatrick Homes. She alleges she was backing from a parking space when an eastbound police squad car on Propp Avenue struck her car, resulting in injuries to her.

Volunteer policemen and their families will be washing the cars for $2 each.

The volunteer police department patrols Nameoki Township Precincts three, five, six, 11 and 12, acting as an aid to the Madison County Sheriff's Department. There currently are nine active officers.

Scott acts to close bet services

William J. Scott, Illinois attorney general, praised the Illinois Supreme Court's swift action Tuesday in outlawing race track messenger services.

Scott personally argued the case before the Supreme Court on June 28 at which time he urged the court to expedite its ruling because of the dangers involved in race track messenger services.

At Scott's request, the Supreme Court issued a mandate that law enforcement officials may begin immediately to enforce the law.

Attorney General Scott also informed Governor Thompson that the state police may begin shutting down race track messenger services all over the state.

Scott said that each of the more than 100 statewide messenger services has a number of storefront operations which may open and close at any time. These services are not regulated and unlike expressly barred such activities as prostitution, the messenger services are not taxed.

Scott noted that the Illinois legislative committee investigating the problems inherent in race track messenger services as follows: "That many owners and employees of messenger services are persons with long records of criminal arrests and convictions; "That the services have had an adverse effect upon race track revenue; "That messenger services would be almost impossible to regulate. In fact, Illinois is the only state in the country where these messenger services are presently still free to operate."

The First District Appellate Court had also enjoined Attorney General Scott from enforcing a 1977 law which

Budget item for backhoe purchase sparks dispute

Despite objections by the Granite City Council's finance committee chairman Paul Ray Bowers, the Granite City Council voted Tuesday night to "over-inflate" the city's federal revenue sharing budget in hopes that funds not yet promised to the city by the federal government can be used to purchase a $35,000 backhoe and concrete breaker for the street department.

Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell told the council that their deletion of the backhoe and concrete breaker would cause problems, since the unit "is desperately needed. We have got to have this to do some of the repair work that needs done around town," Portell stated.

"We have one person (street department employee) for each 1,500 people in this city. That is not enough. We could break concrete by hand, like we have been, but this equipment helps compensate for the shortage of manpower," he added.

Bowler contended the city cannot appropriate federal funds which have not been promised to the city. "If you want this backhoe, it's simple. Just take the two tandem trucks and the asphalt spreader out of the budget and put in the backhoe. The price is about the same and it won't change the budget."

Portell noted the asphalt spreader and trucks are necessary for the city "to get into the paving business," which was considered a priority in this fiscal year.

The council then voted to add $35,000 to the federal revenue sharing budget, so it can be purchased if anticipated federal approval of additional funds to the city is received.

Finish Line offices are open—only to pay bets

Finish Line Express offices in Granite City and East St. Louis are open this week, but not to accept bets on horse races.

A spokesman for the firm announced Tuesday that the offices would open for three days, starting yesterday, to pay winners and to refund bets placed which the messenger service was unable to convey to the race tracks.

The offices are open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. through tomorrow, then will close permanently, unless a court battle is successful in having the Illinois Supreme Court reverse its position that horse race messenger services are illegal.

Attorneys for Finish Line and other messenger services have asked for a hearing to seek such a reversal, the spokesman said.

1-3 year term in burglary

Lurton C. Cherry, 18, State Park Place, has been sentenced to serve one to three years in prison after pleading guilty to burglary.

The sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr after Cherry pleaded guilty to burglarizing the home of Wella Martin, 2342 Winters Drive, May 19, 1977.

The decision marked the close of numerous off-track betting facilities throughout the state.

4-H livestock auction

Grand and reserve champion 4-H market animals will be auctioned to the public at the conclusion of the 1978 Madison County 4-H Fair, July 23 through 28.

These and other high quality market animals will be sold in the second annual 4-H Livestock Auction. The auction will begin on Friday, July 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the Madison County Fair in Highland. The free admission event is open to public participation.

Animals to be sold include grand champion, reserve grand champion, and other high quality market steers, barrows, and wethers that 4-H'ers have shown during the fair.

All nominated animals are owned and raised by 4-H youth. Approximately 30-40 animals have been nominated for sale. Edwardsville: Flossie Foods, Edwardsville; Kloss Meat Market and Processing Center, Grantfork; and Korte and Richter Meat Processors, Inc., Highland will donate the processing on three steers, two barrows, and two wethers offered for auction.

In addition, the 4-H'ers will deliver the animal to the location chosen by the buyer. Buyers will be able to sell the animal back at market price to a local livestock buyer who will be at the sale.

4-H livestock auctions provide educational marketing experience for 4-H'ers. They provide business and individuals with an opportunity to purchase top quality beef, pork and lamb for their freezers of promotional purposes. For more information, Quad-Cityans may contact the Madison County Extension office at 656-7200.

Madison County honored for citizen services

Madison County was presented with its 1978 Achievement Awards at the 43rd annual conference of the National Association of Counties at Atlanta, Ga., last week.

The annual awards are given to counties which have been specially honored for outstanding citizen service and for innovative programs leading to more efficient, modern county government.

Madison County received its awards for its "operation helping hand van," a county program that placed four of five vans, donated by a local car dealer, in four communities.

Each of the towns, working with the county Community Development Department and Office of Manpower Development, has established a special transportation service free to senior citizens. Currently, each of the vans does daily runs between 15 and 25 seniors daily.

The county also was recognized for its "paper recycling program." The county operates a program of recycling office paper and computer punch cards in the county offices.

Employees have been asked to separate their waste paper by placing recyclable paper in a special plastic holder on each employee's desk. Custodians have been instructed to collect trash and recyclables in different colored bags.

When the Environmental Control Department picks up trash every morning, they deliver the special bag with recyclable paper to a county garage where they are stored until a local paper reprocessing firm picks them up.

The county receives $50 per ton for the paper and is trying to encourage other local jurisdictions to participate in its program or establish similar ones.

NACO is the national spokesman for county government in the United States.

The organization at its conference called for the "rollback of property taxes" if they reach "confiscatory levels" and property taxes which accurately reflect what it costs to provide essential local government services.

More than 4,000 county officials approved a resolution on tax reform and responsible government.

The resolution was adopted during the conference where Proposition 13 was one of the dominant issues. The tax reform resolution calls on federal, state and local officials to renew their efforts to eliminate waste, reduce bureaucracy and cut red tape in government.

It also calls on county officials to support the President and Congress in their efforts to balance the federal budget at the earliest possible date and to "assume our share of that responsibility."

The resolution recognizes that property tax levels are often intolerable and that the property tax itself has been asked to carry far too many governmental burdens. The resolution points out that too often the "over-loading" of the property tax is not the result of votes by local elected officials but rather the mandates of federal and state governments.

Reacting to the resolution, NACO's 1977-78 President William O. Beach of Montgomery County, Tenn., said "that he believes counties are willing to take 'their fair share of cuts' when it comes to national tax reform as long as efforts to reduce government spending occur at all levels of government — federal, state and local."

Also discussing the tax reform mood of the country was Jack Watson, assistant to the president for Intergovernmental Affairs, who was the keynote speaker at the opening general session.

Watson told the delegates that "a democracy needs a concerned and vocal constituency in order to work well."

"We need the pressure provided by the public... to give us the energy and the will and the leverage to challenge our own government bureaucracies that are frequently so large and so intractable that they try the patience and creativity... of even the most dedicated public official," Watson said.

However, he added that he feared that "a healthy and appropriate skepticism about what government can do is turning sour."

He also said that he believed that "a healthy and appropriate skepticism about what government can do is turning sour."

Note: printing error on this year's tax bills

A printing error on tax bills now being received by Madison County residents is certain to cause some confusion in this year's tax collection. The Madison County clerk's office announced Monday afternoon. Most tax bills for this area have two different totals, since the tax for drainage was not included in the totaling of the various taxes and is not included in the entry at the lower right-hand corner labeled, "Amount of tax."

However, the correct figure is to the left of that total labeled, "Pay total due." Taxpayers are being reminded to use the entry after "Pay total due" when making out their checks, rather than the lower "Amount of tax" figure. Banks, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions which mortgage loans are being contacted by the clerk's office and notified of the error, it was announced.

Break-in at Midtown Pharmacy

A man wearing a red stocking cap and dark clothing was seen on the roof of the Midtown Pharmacy, 2057 Johnson Road, at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday by a police officer who was responding to a call that someone may be inside the premises. The intruder moved to the opposite side of the roof and the officer ran around the building, but was unable to find the man. Other officers arrived at the scene, surrounded the drug store and a search was made of the roof, interior and the vicinity without success. Force was used to open a vent on the roof to gain access into the building. The storm door to a physician's office also was found open.

90 days in jail in robbery case

William W. Johnson, 25, of 2808 Dale Ave., has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr to serve two years of probation and 90 days in the Madison County Jail after Johnson pleaded guilty to robbery. A charge of armed robbery from a Ponton Beach case was dismissed. The robbery to which he pleaded guilty occurred Nov. 20, 1977, in Collinsville.

It was unable to be determined at the time if anything was missing. A short time later, an officer found a number of cigars, cigarette packages, cartons of cigarettes and 21 lighters laying in a pile, about six feet from the southeast side of Frohardt School. The items are believed to have been taken from the drug store.

Youth gets two years probation

Kenneth Biggs, 17, of the 2300 block of Nameoki Road, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr to two years of probation and to serve three months in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to burglary. Biggs allegedly broke into Fornaszewski Music, 3009 Nameoki Road, April 7. Police responded to a burglar alarm and stopped Biggs nearby. It is alleged a paper bag he dropped contained items from the music store.

Named were: Leland Hartsfield Jr. of Jefferson City, Mo., as special assistant to the director; Jerome Kirzner of St. Louis, as acting director of transit; and Edward A. Madison of Charleston, W. Va., as director of program development.

Hartsfield assumes duties as special assistant after leaving the Missouri Department of Transportation, where he served in the dual role of deputy director and director of planning.

In these capacities, he coordinated all of the division's activities. He has assisted the East West Gateway Coordinating Council (EWGCC) and Mid-America Regional Council in the development of unified work programs, and, as president of Hartsfield directed a major transit-

Associates, has served as a management consultant of the planning projects.

Hartsfield has used his expertise as an airplane pilot and a certified Department of Defense instructor to provide assistance to numerous aeronautical agencies. He has also served as director of the Institute of Black Studies, a St. Louis educational research organization.

He succeeds Kirzner who, as acting director of transit will organize, coordinate and direct all of Bi-State's transit functions, including operations, maintenance and scheduling.

Associated with Bi-State since March of this year, Kirzner has been responsible for the coordination of matters relating to the administration, operations, and planning of all agency-related functions, with particular emphasis given to the development of unified work programs, and, as president of Hartsfield directed a major transitparatransit project on behalf of the Canadian Government for the city of Vancouver, British Columbia, and worked on transit projects in both private and governmental agencies.

As director of program development, Madison will administer a division which has primary planning responsibilities for all of the agency's operations, including the 1,000-bus transit system, the St. Louis Port Authority, and Bi-State Parks Airport, as well as other projects which affect the Missouri-Illinois metropolitan region.

Prior to assuming his duties at Bi-State, Madison was the director of the Transportation Division for the State of West Virginia. In that position, he managed five public transit authorities and developed and implemented many statewide transportation planning projects.

He has been previously employed with the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) in Washington, D.C., the U.S. Government Accounting Office and ATE Transit Management & Service Co., Inc., of Cincinnati, Ohio.

McKinley bridge traffic up

Traffic for the month of June on the McKinley Toll Bridge at Venice passed the 300,000 mark. Bridge Manager Thomas Fields reported to the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

The monthly total for June was 311,032 vehicles crossing, with a daily average of 10,368. This represents an increase of 1,150 vehicles a day over June 1977. Fields attributed the traffic increase to several factors: the underpass, completion of FA Route 151, the automatic toll collectors speeding up passage, and overcrowding on other bridges.

Although the traffic is up, it was noted that the McKinley Bridge still is the least used of any bridge in the St. Louis area. "One thing many people who were forced to use our bridge because others were closed for repairs learned is how accessible the bridge is to downtown St. Louis, and they have continued to use our bridge," Fields said. "The bridge is structurally sound according to the engineers, but there are many surface repairs needed that will make the bridge even more attractive if monies become available," Fields said.

On a motion by Alderman Tyrone Echols, seconded by Alderman Thomas Voegel, the council voted to provide $2,000 in support of the Madison-Venice Coordinated Youth Services office. The council also approved three building permits: a two-room addition for Willie Baucum, 1203 Market St.; Ronald Williams, a $14,000 mobile home at 1218 College St., and Ada M. Bush, a mobile home.

Merit badge roundup week at Camp Sunnen

A new merit badge "roundup week" has been scheduled at Boy Scout Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo., from July 23 until July 29.

The special week has been set aside so that Scouts in the Cahokia Mound Council may work on and finish merit badge requirements they have started or want to earn.

Frequently a Scout may pass a large portion of several badges at camp, but lack a few requirements to complete one or more merit badges. This special week will help the youth finish their requirements, according to a Scout camp spokesman.

The camp staff will provide the leadership and Scouts may attend the week as individuals, rather than with their troop. The fee is $40 and Scouts may register at the Scout Service Center, 2016 Delmar Ave., Granite City or at camp July 23 by 2 p.m.

Several merit badges such as marksmanship, swimming, life saving, canoeing, camping and conservation, lend themselves to a camp atmosphere, and are difficult to earn in the city.

BURGLARY ON 14TH ST.

Venice township to aid Madison, Venice

Allocation of $4,000 in federal revenue sharing funds to the city of Venice for recreational purposes and $4,000 to the city of Madison for recreational purposes and equipment purchases were approved by the Venice Town Board in a meeting last week.

A request by the Madison street department for a high lift was tabled until funds become available, according to Supervisor Christ Pashoff.

Pashoff reported the township is progressing in the acquisition of land adjacent to the Benjamin addition for construction of a park, and for playground equipment. He said roads in the addition have been strengthened with six inches of rock in preparation for resurfacing after sewer lines are installed in the county sewer program.

The supervisor also reported that Community Development block grants of $60,000 for road improvements in Eagle Park and $50,000 for housing rehabilitation, also in Eagle Park, have been approved and that an engineering study is being made to design specifications for the Eagle Park road work.

During June, the board was informed, the township rendered service in 418 cases, including 149 for general assistance and 270 in response to a variety of requests. The 270 cases handled in the supervisor's office included such matters as information and directions for securing social security aid, directions as to how to obtain housing rehabilitation and painting funds in the Community Development program.

Other office activities included securing rent subsidies, legal aid and food stamps and for providing notary public service, photo-copies, aid for handicapped and providing information on obtaining voting cards and filing applications for eyeglasses and hearing aids. The office also aided in obtaining health inspections of septic tanks, weed cutting, mosquito spraying and job acquisition, Pashoff said.

He told the board the township also is conducting a program with the cooperation of officials of utility firms to avoid the shutoff of gas, electric and water service in indigent cases to give the township time to make adjustments in such cases.

He said daily and monthly meetings are held with area agencies and civic groups to maintain close relationships and provide help to township residents where it is needed.

Street cleaning program planned

Merchants in the downtown area have been asked to cooperate in a program designed to keep downtown streets clean through efforts of the Street Department.

Edward Relake, executive vice president, asked merchants to sweep their sidewalks on closing Monday so that the city streetwrecker can clean the streets early Tuesday morning.

At the same time, motorists have been asked not to park on the streets from 6:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. to avoid interfering with the sweeping operations.

The area embraced by the program is between 21st and 18th Streets and between Madison Avenue and Adams Street.

The streetwrecker will operate within the area each Tuesday morning.

SIUE Concert Chorale ends tour

By CLARE WEE
The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Concert Chorale received a rousing welcome in the town of St. Oswald, Austria on July 7.

The Chorale's performance "brought out the town," and the evening began with outdoor folk dancing and singing. A community spokesman presented Leonard Van Camp, director of the Chorale, with a framed picture of the town, while Mrs. Van Camp was showered with bouquets of rare mountain flowers.

Cries of "wunderbar" were heard everywhere. "It is an honor to have such an internationally famous choir come across the seas and sing for our little St. Oswald," the spokesman said.

According to Kathy Stacy, a music education major from Granite City, "It has been the small towns like St. Oswald that have been so much fun." She continued, "We are looking forward to London and Paris; we never guessed it would be the smaller cities that would be the most memorable."

The Chorale has sung and charmed the hearts of the citizens of Aachen Rothenburg and Salzburg.

In Salzburg, the group performed and recorded at the famous Mozartium. "I have never heard such applause at the Mozartium in all the time I have lived in Salzburg," said an amazed and proud American.

"When you started singing 'America,' I felt the tears come to my eyes," he said.

The Chorale also led Americans in Budapest in singing the "Star-Spangled Banner" on July 4, at the American Club.

"You have made this a special day for all of us in Budapest," said Ambassador Kaiser.

The Chorale has had its special days, too. On a visit to St. Florian Monastery in Austria, the group had an opportunity to rehearse with a Bruckner disciple, August Kropfleiter.

"The pieces we perform become a different experience when I know why the composer has written the music the way he did," said Kurt Engbreton, a music composition major from Edwardsville.

The trip has also affected Nancy Allison, an art major from Edwardsville. "It has been such a culturally and historically educational trip for me. Being able to experience the art history that I learn at SIUE is like a dream come true," she said.

"But still it will be good to be home," she added.

The four-week tour of eight European countries ended when the group returned to the United States July 16.

STEREO TAKEN
Jack Cox, 2416 Delta Ave., reported at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday, an eight-track AM-FM stereo radio, valued at $225, had been stolen from his locked vehicle.

New music facilities among building priorities at SIUE

The department of music of the School of Fine Arts and Communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been continued in good standing by the Commission on Undergraduate Studies and Commission on Graduate Studies of the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM).

William H. Tarwater, chairman of the department of music, said he is "very pleased with this action." But he cautioned that the reaccreditation evaluation is conditional on a progress report which the University must submit by November, 1981, concerning alleviation of its "severe lack of physical facilities."

Originally accredited by the NASM 10 years ago, the action of the commissions is to continue the institution in good standing with the following degree listings:

Bachelor of Arts in Music; Bachelor of Music in Performance; Bachelor of Music in Music Education; Master of Music in Performance; and Master of Music in Music Education.

The University was visited in February, 1977 for reevaluation by a team of examiners headed by Dr. Charles Ball of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and Dr. Lawrence Hart of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

The examiners said the department's strengths include "excellent faculty and student body"; "sympathetic administrators"; "proximity to metropolitan area"; "good library facilities"; and "string and keyboard development programs provide unique experience and good recruitment activity."

The "severe lack of physical facilities" was cited as the department's principal weakness, and Samuel Hope, NASM executive director, said the University must provide by November, 1981, a progress report responding to the need for a more permanent solution to the space and acoustical problems associated with practice and rehearsal rooms.

According to Prof. Tarwater, the University has plans for an instrumental music rehearsal annex which would provide seven studio-size practice rooms and three for ensembles. The project, estimated to cost $1.8 million, would be the first phase of a new fine arts complex and has been approved by the SIU Board of Trustees.

In action last week, the board ranked the project as having the second highest priority in its list of capital budget requests for consideration by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the legislature for funding in Fiscal Year 1980.

At present, the department of music, located primarily in the Communications Building, has only one room available for rehearsals of large groups such as the University Band, University Chorus and University Orchestra. Individual practice room space also is limited, according to Prof. Tarwater.

Despite space limitations, the accreditation examiners evaluated the level of achievement among undergraduate students as "decidedly adequate, in some cases quite strong." And in regard to the graduate level, they said, "Graduate courses visited reveal a satisfactory level of expectation and achievement. Students demonstrate confidence and competence in their professional preparation."

Evaluating the faculty, the accreditation team reported: "Faculty members demonstrate substantial competence in their special fields; there were no problems apparent in faculty loads or general morals."

Driver hurt at Nameoki-Lindell

Donna S. Skirball, 26, of 2572 Westmeland Drive, sustained injuries in an accident occurring at 11:55 a.m. Tuesday on Nameoki Road at Lindell Boulevard.

Mrs. Skirball's car, east-bound across Nameoki Road from Nameoki Village Shopping Center, collided with the south-bound vehicle of Walter T. Simmons, 60, of 4005 Maryland Manor Apartments.

Simmons was charged with disobeying a stop light and is to appear by Aug. 28.

At St. Elizabeth Hospital, Mrs. Skirball had x-rays taken and received treatment for a bump on the head before being released.

The arrest stemmed from an incident at the home of Ruth Percy, 711 Twenty-seventh Place, when Norton allegedly came to the front porch carrying a baseball bat and said he was seeking the woman's son.

Police located Norton in his car a short distance away from the address and reportedly confiscated a baseball bat and several open bottles of beer from the front seat. Norton was released about 8:40 p.m. Tuesday on payment of $35 cash bond.

Mobile van to aid veterans
at county fair

A mobile van manned by Veterans Administration benefit specialists touring Illinois to promote the VA's Operation Boost encouraging Vietnam war veterans to use the GI Bill will be in Highland Monday, July 24, from noon until 8 p.m.

Donald R. Ramsey, VA regional office director in Chicago, said the van will be at the Madison County Fair. While the VA is trying to get veterans who have not used their GI Bill training benefits to do so before they expire, all veterans are welcome to discuss any problems or ask any questions about benefits.

Information, counseling and help in filing any claim with the VA are part of the duties of the traveling specialists.

Ramsey said this is the seventh year the vans have toured the state, and many veterans who are unable to go to the Chicago regional office are contacted at their hometown as a result of the project.

VA specialists will help any veteran or dependent with problems on educational benefits, pensions, compensation, insurance, home loan eligibility certificates, medical benefits and training or apprenticeship programs.

Get two years
in truck theft

Two youths who allegedly were involved in the theft of a pickup truck from Pontoon Beach Feb. 20 have been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve two years in prison.

Donald Albert, 20, and David W. Rogers, 24, both of State Park Place, have pleaded guilty to a felony count of theft and were sentenced by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark.

A co-defendant in that case, Robert R. Cherry, 19, also of State Park Place, is serving two years in prison after being sentenced earlier. A juvenile also was charged in the case.

The four allegedly borrowed a pickup truck, came here and stole the pickup truck of Dennis Britt, 3925a Village Lane, from Britt's home. Pontoon Beach police saw the two trucks and attempted to stop both, but one escaped. Cherry was arrested at that time in the truck they had borrowed from Rogers' brother.

Britt's truck was found abandoned on Walker's Island. Subsequent investigation led to warrants being issued for Rogers and Albert and to their arrest.

Early damage by armyworms

By RON CORNWELL
Extension Farm Adviser
The fall armyworms are taking an early vacation to Madison County this year. Fall armyworm damage has been appearing in many Madison County cornfields for the past two or three weeks.

appear in Southern Illinois in August or early September. This year the fall armyworm is appearing earlier than normal. We had severe corn borer damage in cornfields this year. Since both corn borer and fall armyworm cause damage in the whorl of the corn plant, some producers have mistaken armyworm damage for corn borer damage.

The fall armyworm looks very similar to the true armyworm except there is a prominent inverted Y marking on the front of its head. The adult moth of the fall armyworm lays eggs in the whorl of the corn plant. The eggs are laid in spots or consecutive plants in a row across a cornfield. When the larval hatch, they spend their entire life on the same corn plant. This is the reason damage shows up in a spotty pattern across a field. The adult moths often select the late planted corn to lay eggs.

Most damage from the fall armyworm occurs in the whorl of the corn plant. The leaves are very severely chewed in the whorl area and have a very ragged appearance. Checking the whorl of the plant will reveal a large amount of droppings and usually the fall armyworm. In some plants the tassel may be damaged. If the heart of the plant is not killed, it will grow out of the damage rapidly.

A check of some fields last week indicate most fall armyworm larvae were approaching an inch to one and a half inch in size. It takes the larvae about three weeks from hatch till it pupates. Once the worm reaches the pupa stage, it will no longer cause damage.

There is a noxious weed law in Illinois. This law names the weeds that are noxious and more of the plants over a field show feeding and worms are still present in the whorl of the plants. If the worms are large, they will be gone in a few days and any efforts on control will be wasted.

Many people have heard the term noxious weed used but are unaware of which weeds are noxious weeds. There are eight noxious weeds in Illinois. Establishes legal requirements for their control. The three types of weeds on the list are annuals, biennials and perennials. Annual weeds only live one growing season and reproduce from seed. A biennial plant lives two years. The plant normally goes to seed the second year. The last group of plants are perennials. Perennials live for several years and spread by both seed and creeping roots.

Thurs., July 20, 1978 Page 17
The annual weeds on the noxious weed list include Common Ragweed, Giant Ragweed and Maruhana. Common Ragweed is considered noxious only within the corporate limits of cities, villages or incorporated towns. The only biennial weeds on the noxious weed list is Musk Thistle.
The perennials weeds included on the list are Canada Thistle, Cockspurgrass, Perennial Sowthistle and Sorghum Almum and other Johnsongrass crosses.
We have a booklet available at the Extension office entitled "Illinois Noxious Weeds, Their Description and Control." A copy can be obtained through the Extension office.

The University of Illinois wheat plots planted by Dennis Givlio, near Moro, were Harvested on July 8.
The top yielding variety was Pioneer S-76, with a yield of 79 bushels per acre. The other yields included Hart - 77½ bu.; Abe - 74½ bu.; Oasis - 74 bu.; Coker 747 - 71 bu.; Beau - 70 bu.; Arthur - 69½ bu.; Arthur 71 - 68 bu.; Roland - 68 bu.; Coker 76-22 - 65½ bu.; Double Crop - 65½ bu.; and Blueboy II - 65½ bu.

3 years probation on burglary plea

Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr has sentenced Virgil E. Hughes, 23, of 2801 Circle Drive, to serve three years of probation after Hughes pleaded guilty to burglary.

Hughes also was sentenced to serve the last three months of the probation in the Madison County Jail, but the jail term is subject to reconsideration by the judge at that time and may be withdrawn.

Hughes allegedly broke into Len's Amoco, 2200 Pontoon Road, Feb. 1, taking a large quantity of tools and tires. A police investigation led to the recovery of most of the loot, including four tires on a vehicle in the driveway of Hughes' home and some tools in the garage, it was reported.

Fred Albers Srs. mark 50th year of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albers Sr. of Staunton, Ill., formerly of Granite City, were honored recently at a buffet-reception to observe their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception was given by their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albers Jr. of Mount Olive, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Mildred) Schubert of Granite City and their grandchildren.

The couple was married July 3, 1928, at Concordia Lutheran Church in Granite City. They resided here for many years prior to moving to Staunton 14 years ago.

Mr. Albers was employed at the Granite City Post Office until retiring in 1964. Mrs. Albers, the former Esther Schrage, was employed at International Shoe Co. in St. Louis.

About 200 guests were greeted by the honorees and spent the evening dancing to the music of Novus IV, their grandsons' band.

The event was held at the Civic Center in Mount Olive.

High court took its time but reached the right verdict on bet messenger offices taking advantage of loophole in law

Quad-Cityans and Illinoisans sometimes have fretted over the time consumed by deliberations of the State Supreme Court. But they generally have been able to applaud the soundness of the rulings, such as that issued July 14 on horse race bet messenger services.

Time was a pertinent issue because of the loophole created by a Chicago-area Appellate Court decision that appeared to negate a 1977 Illinois law banning such messenger offices.

Many eagerly leaped through that loophole, establishing numerous offices and giving every indication that they hoped to remain in business indefinitely. During this period, some seemed to be utilizing all legal maneuvers imaginable to delay final action on the issue.

One of the concerns here was that it was difficult to determine whether some Illinois officers took all their bets to the race tracks, where taxes are collected on betting. If they retained some bets and served as their own treasurers for wins and losses, taxation was avoided and existing anti-bookie laws loomed as a potential factor.

Chicago area law enforcement authorities found their hands tied, and officials in some Downstate areas adopted a "hands off" attitude.

To their credit, Granite City and Madison County authorities took a resolute stand attitude after an initial "live and let live" experiment.

As the Illinois Supreme Court opinion points out, "It is well within the authority of the state to limit gambling on horse races to those who are at the track betting for themselves or betting for others only as a courtesy and not for a fee."

What is it that a bet messenger service wants to do and it is providing needed, the high court classified it as subject to regulation or prohibition by legislation.

Not only is the ruling logical but it preserves the status quo in which horse race betting is permitted to occur somewhat publicly, with the state taking a share and it in providing needed governmental services. The decision may tend to strengthen the employment base provided by such tracks, rather than undermining it. The away-from-the-track activity obviously could have eroded the present volume in handling of transactions at the tracks.

Some people are hailing the court ruling eliminating messenger services as clearing the way for state legalization of tax-related betting shops—OTB, or off-track betting.

But the same argument against divorcing present track operations from the tracks themselves also applies to the OTB concept. And there are many other flaws in the pending Illinois OTB proposal.

While calls for any Madison County area bet shops to be administered through the East St. Louis city government.

House-passed OTB authorization ought to be blocked in the Senate — this year and in future years.

Most smokers start when too young for mature decision

"There's no single thing that will better improve their health, their longevity, reduce cancer, reduce heart disease, reduce emphysema, than quit smoking." This comment by Health-Education-Welfare Secretary Karen Ann Quinlan underscores the importance of the smoking issue.

The part of the issue being given top priority by Sec. Califano is smoking by young people. He is relatively content to let adults who smoke use their own judgment on whether to continue. But he is concerned that vast numbers are joining the ranks of smokers every year, most of them at a tender age.

"Seventy-five percent of the people who smoke begin to smoke and acquire the habit before they're 21 years old, and that's the group we're going to target on. Every year that goes by beyond 21, it becomes less likely that you'll smoke. And virtually nobody in this country begins to smoke after age 25 or 30.

"It's a myth that people make a conscious adult decision on whether to smoke or not to smoke, weighing the risks of cancer and heart disease. The people that begin to smoke in this country are 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 years of age," Califano is convinced.

Science is wonderful — but 'miracles' are still happening

Press-Record Bureau — A young woman in Michigan lay in a coma for six months after she suffered a head injury in an auto accident. Doctors and her family despaired of hope she would ever regain consciousness. The other day she opened her eyes and said "Hi" to her mother.

There is still much uncharted territory between life and death. It is now two years since the parents of Karen Ann Quinlan received court permission to remove her from a life-sustaining respirator.

The case of that New Jersey woman who had fallen into a deep coma after mixing pills and alcohol stirred a national debate over the responsibility of doctors and family members toward people who are terminally ill or in a comatose state considered permanent. The decision was made to let Miss Quinlan die — but she is still alive.

A new law took effect in California last year which requires doctors to honor the request of people with incurable illnesses that no "heroic" efforts be made to keep them alive. It has been suggested that the law be expanded to cover cases where a terminal illness has been diagnosed and a person is in a "permanently" comatose state.

How far should the law go? The unexplainable call it the miraculous keeps intruding on the presumption that medical science can say with certainty whether death is imminent or physical conditions are irreversible.

GC park budget higher

A tentative 1979-80 budget of $731,423 has been approved by the Granite City Park District board and is expected to be finally adopted in a special Park Board meeting at 7 p.m. on Saturday morning, July 29.

The new budget is $23,468 less than the appropriation of $754,891 approved last year.

The budget projects expenditures of $482,517 out of the general corporate fund, up from last year's $415,886 appropriation, while expenses for the recreation program are budgeted at $239,426, up from $235,189.

For municipal retirement payments, the budget provides $35,500, an increase from $31,000 last year. Payments for tort liability insurance was unchanged at $23,400, while the cost of auditing was set at $2,500, up by $100.

No one appeared at a public hearing on the budget July 12 and the figures will be submitted to the Park Board members in the special July 29 meeting for final approval.

Frank Rea, board secretary, noted that the final budget draft is subject to change.

16-year traditions, diversity of issues at Illinois Supreme Court

By MIKE KIENZLER

SPRINGFIELD — "WHACK," the gavel strikes. Marshall Louis Dean, 118, a Carolina twang oddly loud in the dim, mahogany and red chamber, makes the ceremonial, superfluous introduction.

"The honorable, the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois," Chief Justice Daniel Ward gives the response: "Mr. Marshall, the Supreme Court is reconvened."

"Oyez, oyez, oyez, the Supreme Court is reconvened," Dean repeats, and with that aged ritual, the Illinois Supreme Court opens another day of oral arguments.

On an average argument day, opposing attorneys will debate the legal principles behind a case of the more than 250 cases the court will take under full consideration each year.

The year's bag may include such well-publicized issues as whether a multiple murderer should be sentenced to die or whether the right of free speech covers a Nazi rally march through a community whose residents include descendants of Hitler's holo-

But more likely, the arguments will cover quieter questions. Did the stress of manhandling a long-haul truck contribute to the driver's fatal heart attack, even though it occurred at home? Should the widow be barred from workmen's compensation benefits because she didn't want the company early enough that she would file a claim? Or does a photo call saying simply, "Frank died yesterday," fulfill the notification requirement?

Whatever the issue, the Illinois Supreme Court, convened for oral argument, justifies berobed, starting down from their six-foot-high bench in a courtroom built when no one knew how to build courthouses — embodies the Law at its most self-consciously awesome. (Perhaps because oral argument also is the only stage in Court deliberations that is open to the public.)

But the seven Supreme Court justices spend only about 45 days each year actually on the bench. Far more of their work is done in private — either alone, in the justices' district offices, or together during the 15 to 20 weeks a year that the judges move into their private apartments in the Supreme Court Building, across Second Street from the Capitol.

White and on private, the Court is steeped in traditions built up over its 160-year history. The difference is that the private traditions are less to do with making the law majestic and more to do with giving Court members the time to think about the law.

The atmosphere they have has a lot to do with why one long-standing tradition is to have the justices' apartments arranged around a central courtyard, and that's the way it runs.

That's particularly true when the justices are in Springfield, where they spend all but a few minutes of every working day perhaps 100 feet apart.

The Court convenes in Springfield in January, March, May, June, September and November for a two- to three-week period each time. A typical week includes a day-long conference on Monday, oral arguments Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings and afternoons, followed by more conferences and either another conference or traveling back home Friday.

Evenings are almost invariably spent on the third floor of the court building, which includes living quarters for the seven justices, the third floor includes living quarters for the Court's reporter of decisions and for cook-housekeeper Ruth Holcomb, whom Chief Justice Daniel Ward calls "the real boss of the third floor."

There also is a well-equipped kitchen (which includes two refrigerators and a barbecue grill), a dining room and a small parlor along the justices' hallway.

But everything clearly is laid out for work.

Spend taxes on basics but not frills

The ordinary driver can't afford it. The largest tax is for schools. I am all for a child getting a good education, but the basic education is lost in the shuffle.

How to conduct a wedding properly is another nonsense project.

Students graduate and can't fill out a simple application for a job and a young person are killed from auto accidents than any other group.

These accidents by the young adult — driver education has increased our auto insurance rates all out of proportion. The ordinary driver can't afford it. The largest tax is for schools. I am all for a child getting a good education, but the basic education is lost in the shuffle.

How to conduct a wedding properly is another nonsense project.

Students graduate and can't fill out a simple application for a job and a young person are killed from auto accidents than any other group.

These accidents by the young adult — driver education has increased our auto insurance

I do not resent taxes spent for services policemen and firemen. In my opinion, they are underpaid.

There's too much waste of our hard-earned tax dollars, from the federal government on down to the local level.

We have voted the politicians into office in good faith, and hope and expect the same from them. But instead we sometimes are getting ripped off.

Arrests in GC house burglaries

William C. White, 17, Collinsville, was charged by Granite City detectives at 5 p.m. Monday with three counts of burglary. The Madison County state's attorney's office has issued an informational document against White formalizing the charges.

White and a 16-year-old Pontoon Beach boy allegedly broke into three homes in Granite City last week. A juvenile petition has been filed against the 16-year-old.

The charges allege they broke into the home of Stanek Bogdan, 3133 Edgewood Ave., July 11, and filled four pillowcases with jewelry, half dollars, a pistol, a clock radio, a turntable, record albums and other items which were taken. July 13, they allegedly broke into two homes, those of Harold Garrett, 3348 Erin Drive, and Dan Bodenshtab, 2912 Willow Ave. At Bodenshtab's home, the charges allege, the burglars stole a television set, a collection and a sword, had been placed near the rear door with a guitar and guitar case.

Nothing had been taken from Bodenshtab's home, but two pillowcases containing various items, including a coin collection and a sword, had been placed near the rear door with a guitar and guitar case.

News notes

The Madison County Community Development Department will conduct a public hearing to review the performance of the county Community Development Block Grant Program at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 25, at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

The Madison County Fair will start Sunday at Lindendale Park, Highland, and conclude Saturday, July 29. The agenda includes: Four wheel drive pulling Monday; tractor pulling Tuesday; auto racing Wednesday; demolition derby Thursday; horse show Friday; and late model stock cars Saturday.

Gov. James R. Thompson has announced a statewide drive to ask voters in November whether they want to clamp a lid on state and local taxes. He began the first petition Tuesday, beginning a drive to gather 625,000 names to place the question on the November ballot.

Gov. James R. Thompson announced votes Monday of $13.1 billion in spending authorized by the Illinois General Assembly, including a hefty defense measure to give property tax rebates to about two million households. "If the high-spending programs authorized by the Democratic-controlled Legislature were implemented, we'd have to raise taxes to pay for them," Thompson told a news conference. "I will not do that," he added.

In a 19-15 final vote Tuesday, the House Judiciary Committee recommended that Congress extend the deadline for ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment, but not to allow states that have already ratified ERA to withdraw their approval. The extension period of three years, three months and eight days now goes to the House floor.

Applications for funds to start preliminary engineering and architectural survey along a future portion of Interstate 270 and from there to Alton were approved Monday by the Executive Advisory Committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

2 charged in theft today

Granite City police were to apply today for felony warrants against two Mitchell men, ages 20 and 21, who allegedly stole a parking meter from in front of the Upper Level, 19th and State streets, at 2:30 a.m. today.

A witness reported the meter had been bent off at the bottom of the pole and described the pickup truck which left the scene. Police stopped a truck of that description at 20th and State streets moments later and alleged finding the meter on the floorboard.

A quantity of marijuana also was found in the truck, police alleged.

Marine private drowns in Hawaii

A body believed to be that of Patrick Hudson, 34, of Memphis, Tenn., was found Monday during the search for Keys.

Pressing on . . .

WARREN, HAVE YOU BEEN MESSING AROUND WITH THE FIRST AMENDMENT AGAIN?

Earnings can boost benefits

Q. I retired last year, but then went back to work for several months. Is it true that my benefit might be increased because of the earnings I had in those months? — Anon.

A. If you return to work after you start getting retirement checks, your added earnings may result in a higher benefit when you again stop working. Social Security will automatically refigure your benefit after the additional earnings are credited to your record.

Q. When I started getting SSI payments, I had a part-time job. Recently, I had to quit working because of poor health. Should I report that I quit my job to Social Security? — Anon.

A. Yes. SSI beneficiaries must report any change which might affect their payments. If a beneficiary's income decreases, the amount of his or her SSI payment may increase. You can make your report at any Social Security office.

Q. I'll be eligible for Medicare later this year. How much of my medical expenses will the medical insurance part of Medicare pay? — Anon.

A. There is a basic payment rule under Medicare medical insurance. After you have $60 in reasonable charges for covered medical expenses in each calendar year, medical insurance will pay 80 percent of the reasonable charges for any additional covered services you receive during the rest of the year. There are some exceptions to this basic rule, however. For more information, ask for the leaflet "A Brief Explanation of Medicare" at any Social Security office.

Bridge—unyielding structure

The rules of many games—football and basketball, for example—are in a constant state of flux. Others, such as baseball, have retained their form relatively unchanged across the years. Indeed, one hears, it is this very intransigence to which baseball owes its continuing popularity.

In this respect bridge is similar to baseball. The structure of contract bridge remains as it sprang from Harold Vanderbilt's fertile mind some 50 years ago. Vanderbilt's alterations of an earlier form of the game—a balanced scoring table, the concept of vulnerability, the promise of reward for bidding and making a slam—have never been touched.

Consider the idea of vulnerability which affects even the most pedestrian of hands. With favorable vulnerability (the opponents are vulnerable and we are not) greater risks may be chanced; under adverse conditions caution becomes the keyword. Switch the vulnerability in this hand and the bidding might proceed quite differently:

North

West

D K3 D A5
C J942 C 106

South
S A10863
H A9
D J976
C Q5

The actual auction, with West the dealer and East-West vulnerable:

West North East South
1H 2NT 3H 5D
All Pass

Were North-South vulnerable instead of East-West, North might hesitate to enter the bidding the first time around. Here's a likely sequence:

West North East South
1H Pass 2H Pass
Pass 2NT Pass 3D
Pass Pass 3H 4D
All Pass

What we have here is a struggle for a part score. Unless a game is likely resulting, a double is not apt to be put on the table. Only aggressive action by North—overcalling immediately—will push the final contract to the five level.

East-West are beyond their depth in three hearts at which the left, so is entitled to five tricks—one spade, a ruff, a trump and two clubs. It is then, North-South's hand.

South's play justified the partnership bidding. He won the opening heart lead and looked for a place to jettison his heart loser which had to be done before trumps could be drawn.

He cashed the queen and king of clubs, then led the ace. East ruffed and declarer overruffed. A spade ruff followed the spade ace and another club was trumped in hand. A second spade ruff—West could not play the diamond king or South would throw away dummy's heart loser—put the lead in dummy once more.

Declarer discarded the bothersome heart on dummy's eight of clubs and East-West could not win more than two trump tricks. If East put up the king, West later would win only the ace. If East discarded and let West ruff, a subsequent trump lead would drop the ace and king together.

How the West is being won

Q. Television can be confusing at times. I recently saw a movie entitled "The Gun and the Gun" and I swear it looked like two episodes of the "Allan Smith and Jones" Western series. Am I right? — R.M.

A. You are probably right. It is a common practice for studios and producers to link two or more parts of a series into a feature length film. Normally, they put a new title in it and release it as a movie, often for showing abroad.

It's not polite to ask, but since you did . . .

Q. Would you please tell me what is Mary Tyler Moore's age? — J.D.M.

A. She is 41 years of age.

Admits bribe charge

Donald Karpa, a jockey at Fairmount Park Race Track, pleaded guilty Tuesday before Madison County Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark to offering bribes to two jockeys, Gary DeLong, 24, Belleville, and Donald Wallin, 29, Caseyville, were indicted June 1 on charges of failing to report a bribe offer, but the charge against DeLong was dismissed when he proved he reported the bribe offer to a trainer at the track.

It is alleged Karpa and Gary Betzer, 26, Jennings, Mo., offered bribes to Wallin and DeLong, intended to induce them to not put forth their full efforts to win an Aug. 28 horse race. Betzer, a jockey's agent and former jockey, also has been indicted for allegedly offering bribes. He had been offered immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony against Karpa, but Karpa's guilty plea will nullify that offer.

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron is appealing a court ruling last week which suppressed crucial evidence against Wallin, a spokesman for Byron said.

Byron is asking that Karpa receive two years of probation, weekends in jail for six months, a $1,000 fine and permanent loss of his jockey's license. Judge Clark ordered a presentence investigation before setting a date for sentencing.

Bethalto forfeits; Tri-City wins title

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
BETHALTO — When the Tri-City Post 113 American Legion baseball team arrived here last night for its scheduled game with Bethalto, it had visions of grabbing a victory and clinching the District 22 North Division championship. The team did both things, but not in the way it had anticipated.

Bethalto could not produce a full team (only eight players showed at the field), so a forfeit victory was awarded Tri-City. It clinched the championship over Alton without swinging a bat.

Going into last night's scheduled action, Tri-City needed only a win over Bethalto to clinch an out-right championship, holding a one-game lead over Alton. It had already assured itself of at least a tie for first when Alton fell to Cahokia Tuesday night. But after he arrived home last night from Bethalto, Tri-City coach Babe Champion received the good news. Alton lost last night to Fairview Heights, Tri-City would have won the championship even if it hadn't won last night.

"WE'LL TAKE IT," laughed Champion. "We would have liked to have won it tonight by beating Bethalto, but since Alton lost, I guess it wouldn't have made any difference."

The forfeit victory last night comes on the heels of a 3-0 win over Fairview Heights Monday night. Tim Kirksey scattered five hits in that one while Tri-City tallied runs in the second, fifth and seventh innings. Danny Schaus drove in a run and scored once. Kirksey allowed three walks and struck out seven batters.

"We've had a very interesting season," said Champion. "A lot has happened since that first game of the year."

Champion was referring to Tri-City's opening-day loss to Alton. "WE WERE a different ball club then than we are now," he said. "There were a few guys on the team who hadn't had very much previous Legion baseball experience and that game at Alton taught us a lot."

"We said our pitching was the only question mark on the club when the season began," he said. "But obviously, it isn't by any means our weakest point."

There wasn't any denying Tri-City the championship... even though Alton did its best to. The team that found itself trailing Tri-City by a game to a half-game the past two weeks in the standings beat Tri-City twice during the course of the regular season but ran out of gas before the season's end and couldn't keep up the pace.

"We knew we were going to win this thing," said Champion. "We thought we were the best team in the division, we just didn't have our game going for us when we played Alton. Luckily, they didn't have theirs the last two games," said Champion.

THE FOCUS will now turn to the District 22 post-season playoffs, which begin Saturday. Tri-City, which gained the home-field advantage by winning the North Division, will host Highland Saturday at 6 p.m. in the first round. In the other first round game, Alton will host Edwardsville. The top four teams in each division qualify for post-season play. Tri-City will also play at home Sunday, win or lose Saturday in the double-elimination affair. If it wins Saturday, Tri-City will face the winner of the Alton-Edwardsville game at 6 p.m. If it loses to Highland, it will face the loser of that game, also at 6 p.m.

Should Tri-City win its first two games, it will have Monday off and will face the winner out of the losers bracket Monday. If it wins Monday, Tri-City will qualify for the District championship series next weekend. If Tri-City loses Monday, the championship game will be played Tuesday. Tri-City will play at home throughout the first round.

"IT'S REALLY very simple," joked Champion. "When you're trying to explain it, it gets a little long. But it's simple... if we keep winning, we keep on playing at home."

The championship of District 22 will be a best two-out-of-three series between the two division series winners. The first game will be held at the home field of the team with the poorest winning percentage between the two champions. The reason is that two games may be necessary the second day of the series and both games would be played at the highest-season percentage team's home field. All of the past season play will lead up to the regional tournament at Carlyle later this month and the state tournament in Highland August 10 through 13. Tri-City Post 113 was the

Batey picked for all-stars

GRANITE CITY — Bob Batey, shortstop for Glen Carbon's American Legion Post 459 baseball team, has been selected to play in the District 22 American Legion all-star game. The game will be Tuesday, Aug. 1 at Cahokia. Batey was the only member of the Glen Carbon team picked for the elite squad, which will face a similar team of Missouri all-stars tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at ABC Park in St. Anne, Mo. Batey will play on the North Division team in the District 22 game next month.

Granite Cityan Linhart signs with Philadelphia

GRANITE CITY — Greg Linhart, former star second baseman at Illinois State University and a Granite Cityan, was signed here Tuesday evening to a contract by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Linhart, who will turn 22 next Tuesday, was signed at his home by Ken Elam, a scout for the Phillies.

A 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South, Linhart played baseball there for Conrad "Babe" Champion. He also played for Champion on Tri-City's American Legion Post 113 baseball team. Linhart played for Duffy Bass at Illinois State the past four years. This summer, he is playing second base for Highland-Pierson of the Illinois Inter-City League.

Linhart will report to the Phillies' spring training camp next March in Clearwater, Fla. In the meantime, he will continue to work at his summer job at the Illinois Drivers License Testing Station in Granite City and will return to Illinois State next fall to pick up four credits he needs to graduate with a degree in Business Administration.

"GREG LINHART"

"I'll spend the time after school to get in shape for next spring," said Linhart. "Those two months or so will probably go fast."

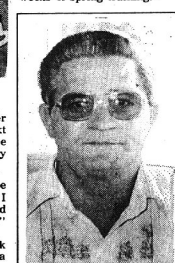

Signing a major league contract surprised Linhart. "I really didn't expect to be asked to sign after not being drafted," he said. "But this is great."

How great? The Phillies think he's good enough to give a substantial bonus just to sign the contract. The bonus is larger than many draftees receive.

Linhart becomes the second member of the family to play professional baseball. His father, Carl, played minor and some major league baseball for the Detroit Tigers.

Linhart does not know at what level he will be playing in the Phillies' farm system, that will be determined during the two weeks of spring training.

The Olympics . . . Granite City style

GRANITE CITY — For nearly 200 youngsters from Granite City, Tuesday was the day of the Olympics. Not the Olympic Games held every four years with participants from all over the world, mind you, but the Olympics held every year at Wilson Park with participants from Park District Recreation Centers all over town.

The Junior Olympics were the climax to two months of practice, competition and eliminations at the various centers. Events included were softball throwing, sack races, obstacle course races, relays and long jumping.

Who would benefit from new lights?

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
(First in a Series)

GRANITE CITY — Who would benefit if lights were installed at the Sports Complex at Granite City High School South? The entire community.

The South Boosters Club began over a year ago wrestling with the idea of putting lights up at the baseball-softball complex. The idea was given approval by the Board of Education, if the complex were made available to the entire district. A committee was formed, a drive kick-off dinner held. The drive, however, has since bogged down and is at a virtual standstill.

If lighting were to be installed at the complex, the repercussions would reach far beyond the campus of GCHS South . . .

the entire Quad-Cities area would feel the benefits.

About a month ago, several Granite City teams traveled to Springfield, Ill. for a statewide youth soccer tournament. That tournament could just have well been held in Granite City . . . if the properly lighted and maintained field were available.

Commentary

The American Legion state baseball tournament will be held the end of this month in Highland. It could just as easily been in Granite City . . . if the properly lighted field were available. Highland's baseball field is in good shape, but not nearly as good as the one at South on which Tri-Cities Post 113 plays its games.

The determining factor in the site selection was the lights Highland had . . . and Granite City didn't.

So, who cares where they hold these tournaments, you ask. What difference does it make? Plenty.

Large statewide tournaments attract large numbers of people, players as well as coaches, families and fans. People spend money. Money which would be spent in the Quad-Cities. In our restaurants, motels, shops, stores and gas stations.

Visiting teams to the field at South leave remarking about the great condition it is in. Much of the credit for that goes to the maintenance department at South and to South baseball coach Babe Champion. But more teams would be impressed if the game had been "under the lights."

Besides the lights, the plan for the lighting fund includes new below-ground dugouts for baseball, new bench areas for soccer, new press boxes and some re-sodding on certain areas. If and when the entire project is completed, it can't help but beautify Granite City.

This entire affair has raised a few complaints as to "Why at South?" The answer is simple; the South Boosters worked long and hard on the idea and finally got approval.

The lighting fund should not be a "North-South battle." No tax money will be used in constructing the lights. Instead, the entire Quad-Cities area should support this effort to bring a new source of pride to a community which already has many.

Three GC teams still alive

DECATUR, ILL. — Three of the four Granite City teams in the Girls' State Softball tournament being held here are still alive after the first round of competition.

The Crickets, Bill's Auto Parts and Sammy's will all face competition in the next round of the tourney this weekend, with only Apple Valley falling during the first round.

Friday, Sammy's defeated Jacksonville 16-0 with Linda Spence the winning pitcher. Saturday afternoon, the team rolled over Moweaqua 10-0, with Spence again the winner. Tina Sedabres hit a home run. Sunday evening, Sammy's again notched another shutout with Spence on the mound, pounding Macomb 10-0. Kathy Birch slugged two home runs. Rose Aharonian and Vicky Witt also hit homers for the team.

The next action for Sammy's will be tomorrow night at 10 o'clock against Rock Island. Bill's Auto Sales also won three games over the weekend and will resume play tomorrow night. Saturday, the team defeated Lightenburgh of Decatur 8-0. Bill's beat Moods of Michael, also from Decatur, Sunday afternoon, 8-2. LaDon Van was the winning pitcher in each game. Tomorrow night, Bill's will play Scott Air Force Base at 8 o'clock.

The Crickets of Granite City won three out of four games over the weekend and will resume play Saturday. Last Saturday, the team lost to Moods of Michael from Peoria 10-5, but bounced back that afternoon to beat Coral Lounge of Bloomington 8-6. In the first game, Donna Mielos hit a home run for the Crickets. In the second game, Kathy Antoff was the winning pitcher.

Sunday afternoon, the Crickets defeated Lightenburgh from Decatur 3-2 with Antoff again the winning pitcher. Sunday night, the team defeated a fellow-Granite City team, Apple Valley, to knock the latter from tournament action in the double-elimination affair, 12-3. Antoff was the winning pitcher. The Crickets will play Saturday against Morris Merchants from Monticello.

Apple Valley won its first game Saturday afternoon, but then dropped its next two to drop from competition. In the Apple Valley victory, Kathy Hadley was the winning pitcher as the team defeated the Stonettes from Decatur 13-11. Sunday, Rock Island beat Apple Valley 6-4, despite a Cheryl Schoofield home run. In the loss to the Crickets, Schoofield also knocked a homer.

The championship game will be played Sunday night at 6:30.

WHO DOES Champion feel is the team to beat? "I don't even think about such things," he said. "I know it sounds old-fashioned, but we like to think of them one game at a time. When a team makes it this far and gets into the playoffs, anything can happen."

"That's been happening this season. We lost to Alton twice, but still won the North Division championship over them after they lost to some teams we beat."

National BPW convention next week in Puerto Rico

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer
Key national issues, election of officers, the national "Speak Off" contest, in which a young Granite City woman is a candidate, and a round of social and recreational activities are being offered nearly 4,500 women attending the 1978 convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The convention starts Saturday at the Hilton Condado Beach Convention Center in San Juan.

Philani C. Desha of Hawaii, national BPW president, will preside at the business sessions.

Mrs. Desha will be succeeded in office by Geraldine R. Eidson of Texas, president-elect, who will be installed with other newly elected national officers on Thursday evening, July 27.

Voting will take place Tuesday, July 25, with the polls open from 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

Linda L. Wetton, 3129 Princeton Drive, a member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, will represent Illinois in the Individual Development National "Speak Off" contest at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Announcement of the winner is withheld until installation night, it was reported.

Miss Wetton, a seventh and eighth grade teacher at Sacred Heart School for the past four years, will teach in Germany starting this fall, it was learned this week.

She is a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School South and received her master's degree in science degree in History. Secondary Education from Eastern Illinois University at Charleston in 1972.

She also is working toward a B.A. degree in English at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Miss Wetton won the state "Speak Off" contest over 10 other district finalists at the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis, in April.

Presently, she is second vice-president of the Granite City BPW Club and was named Young Career Woman by the local club in 1977.

Candidates for office in the national federation, include: Julia K. Arri of California, current national first vice-president, is an accountant and tax consultant. She is candidate for president-elect.

Dorine Chancellor of Arizona, a business educator at Eastern Arizona University, who earned her B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Illinois, is candidate for first vice-president.

A trio of candidates is seeking the office of third vice-president.

Winifred B. Brady of New Jersey, director of Job Service for the State of New Jersey.

Jeri S. Libner of South Carolina, an accountant and civic leader.

Polly Madenwald of Oregon, owner and operator of an accounting and tax service firm and business leader.

Seeking the office of national recording secretary are:

Clare Garity of New York, a lawyer and negligence defense specialist with an insurance firm, and Verdel T. Harrison of Maryland, administrator of Workmen's Compensation, Koppers Company, Inc.

Iona A. V. Travers of Massachusetts, a public accountant and bank incorporator, is seeking the office of national treasurer.

All candidates have served in various offices at the local, state and national levels.

Proposed amendments to the national BPW bylaws, include changes in the wording of "convention" to "pre-convention" in preparation of ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment, and a provision allowing those active members-at-large with business-related time and travel requirements to become associate members-at-large with state and national affiliations.

Current membership in the Business and Professional Women is available through local clubs only.

Also on the business agenda is a proposal to increase the number of delegates from local clubs on a pro-ratio basis, to enable greater participation at the national convention by local members.

A measure permitting the chairman of nominations to become an official observer at meetings of the National BPW Board of Directors' meetings, and reallocation of dues to cover a 1979 increase in International Federation dues, rather than request additional funds from members.

In addition to the convention's business schedule, many special events are planned for the BPW members visiting the island community of Puerto Rico, which lies in the Caribbean Sea, about 1,000 miles southeast of Key West, Fla.

The Puerto Rico State Function will take place Tuesday, July 25, at the Caribe Hilton Hotel. The Puerto Rico BPW Federation will host "Conquistador Night," an evening of folklore dancing, island beverages, roast pig and other entertainment in a tropical atmosphere.

July 25 is Constitution Day in Puerto Rico, when island residents celebrate the inauguration of their constitution on July 25, 1892, a national holiday similar to scope to the Fourth of July in the United States.

Prior to 1982, Puerto Rico was ranked as a possession of the United States.

Deep-sea fishing, golf, tennis, skin and scuba diving and many other water sports are among the recreational pursuits available next week to the BPW members.

An "Afternoon at the Races" is planned Thursday, July 27, featuring a BPW race on the card.

Tours through the walled city of San Juan will take visitors into the El Morro and San Cristobal fortresses, San Jose Church, San Juan Cathedral and Capilla del Cristo, concluding with a visit to Barcadi Rum Distillery.

Optional tours will give visitors a trip through the rain forest of El Yunque and the natural cave known as the phosphorescent bays, near Paraguet.

An Indian Ceremonial Ball Park, built by the Taino Indians for religious ceremonies and ball games over 700 years ago, also may be seen.

Shopping trips to St. Thomas, a free port in the Virgin Islands, are planned during the convention, and a post-convention cruise throughout the Caribbean is scheduled the week following the business schedule.

Several Granite City club members will attend the convention and some are taking the cruise, Mrs. Lois Wetton local BPW president announced.

Until the world's largest electronic chain designed and built the TRS-80 microcomputer there were only two ways to go. Build a computer from parts and pieces as a hobbyist. Or buy or rent a computer for your business or activity. The cost was often in the tens of thousands of dollars. And what you got was probably more than you required. Radio Shack had a different idea: to take the mystery out of computers AND dramatically reduce their cost, without sacrificing the essentials. The result is TRS-80. More TRS-80 computers have been delivered to satisfied users than (as a safe guess) ANY other equipment of its kind. Unlike many others, TRS-80 is not just for fun and games, it's professional. It has its own 12" screen — it's not just another add-on to a TV set. And it's available from stock, not just another undeliverable advertising claim. Best of all, you can take it to any AC outlet, plug it in... and put it to work. Our people can show you its benefits and unprecedented affordability. Please come in to your nearest Radio Shack store. And prepare to be very, very pleasantly surprised!

'Quarter Day' Friday at Wilson Park pool

Children and adults who have Granite City Park identification cards may swim for only 25 cents Friday, between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. at the Wilson Park swimming pool.

The second "Quarter Day" this summer season is expected to attract a large crowd of swimmers, according to George Wilkins III, pool manager.

More than 600 participated in the first 25-cent-day-swim three weeks ago.

Those without park district ID cards are required to pay the regular pool fee — $1.25 for children and $1.75 for adults.

Registrations currently are being accepted for the second series of girls' swimming lessons being offered this summer by the park district.

The lessons will start Monday, July 24, and continue through Aug. 4.

Those interested may register at the park swimming pool office from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Scheduled to start on Monday, July 31, is the second Mother-Inn swim program, which will conclude Aug. 11.

Registration for this series will be accepted during the same hours at the pool office.

Bittersweet grown easily

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser

Bittersweet is a twining vine with attractive green foliage in summer and clusters of red berries that last all winter.

Bittersweet can easily be grown on arbors, trellises, fences but requires annual pruning to maintain fruiting and beauty. It will grow in a variety of soils and climates but does best in full sun. Under normal care, it can produce vines up to 25 feet long.

Two species of bittersweet are grown as ornamental vines. American Bittersweet and Oriental Bittersweet. American Bittersweet (Celastrus Scandens) produces the best berry clusters. But American Bittersweet produces male flowers and female flowers on separate plants, so you must have one of each to have a good crop of berries.

Oriental Bittersweet (Celastrus Orbiculatus) produces both flowers on the same vine, but the berries aren't as profuse and aren't clustered on the end of short branches. Oriental Bittersweet has better foliage and vining characteristics than the American.

American Bittersweet will produce suckers that can be transplanted. If you plant seed, about half the saplings will be males. Some catalogs offer plants of both species.

Bittersweet should be pruned in early spring before leaves develop. It should be pruned back every year to maintain a well-kept appearance and get large clusters of berries. A central vine, or trunk, the height of the fence or trellis should be selected and maintained as the base cane.

Every spring, remove most of the sucker growth back to the trunk. Leave five or six canes of one-year wood, each cut to three or four foot stubs. On woven wire fences save 2 lateral vines from each direction and prune each to six to eight stubs.

Each year select new laterals from stubs on the trunk and prune off the old laterals. Bittersweet cannot be effectively grown on fences or walls that do not permit twining to support the vines.

Traffic fines distributed

Traffic fines totaling $16,475 have been distributed by the Quad-City area by Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell as a portion of the $110,463 in fines collected by Madison County Circuit Court during June.

Granite City has received $13,055; Madison $1,985; Venice

$200; and Pontoon Beach $1,235, Portell reported.

Alton headed the list with $13,124 in fines, slightly more than the $110,463 in fines collected by Madison County Circuit Court during June.

The county government received $28,826 of the fine money, the state was given $20,745 in fines on overweight trucks, the Illinois Commerce Commission got $885 and the Illinois Department of Conservation received $45.

Probation in restraint case

Stephen D. Hale Jr., 23, of 2419 Iowa St., has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark to serve two years of probation after pleading guilty to unlawful restraint.

A charge of attempted rape from the same incident was dismissed. A young woman alleged Hale, whom she did not know, forced her at gunpoint into a car on the parking lot of Grandpa's Store on Collinsville Avenue and drove her to Granite City and then to the Mitchell area where he forced her to disrobe, according to Madison County sheriff's deputies.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER RUTKOWSKI. Their wedding took place at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Jo Elaine Macios, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Macios, 78 Cambridge Drive.

Jo Elaine Macios weds Walter B. Rutkowski

Miss Jo Elaine Macios became the bride of Walter B. Rutkowski Jr., in a candlelight ceremony on June 30 at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

Father Kenneth J. Becker officiated at the double ring service at 7 o'clock in the evening, in the sanctuary illuminated with burning tapers in branched candelabra, festooned with yellow blossoms. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Macios, 78 Cambridge Drive. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Rutkowski Sr., 3332 Johnson Road.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length ivory Qiana gown featuring a wedding ring neckline and oval sheer yoke applied with delicate silk Venice lace motifs. The full bishop sleeves were gathered at the wrists with fitted lace cuffs and the softly flowing skirt fell into a full chapel sweep, edged in matching lace.

A camelot cap held in place her circular veil of bridal illusion, bordered in lace, and accented with fresh tiny white orchids and sprigs of greenery. She held a cascade of white orchids intermingled with

Doza-Mueller wedding at St. John United

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on May 8 of Miss Janice F. Mueller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mueller, 720 Layton Road, Madison, and Gary L. Doza, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Boniface Doza, Rural Route Four, Edwardsville.

Pyramid shaped bouquets of white gladiolus and greenery adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 12:30 p.m. by James Mory.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Mueller wore a white organza peasant style gown fashioned with an off the shoulder bodice accented with lace.

The gathered skirt featured a wide band of lace above the hemline and she held a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath. Matron of honor was Mrs. Loretta Coghlan and the junior bridesmaid was Lara Mueller, a niece of the bride. They selected floral printed organza dresses and also carried arrangements of white daisies with sprigs of baby's breath.

Attending the groom as best man was William Coghlan. An informal reception was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

Both young people are graduates of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The bride received a B.S. degree in accounting and is employed as a public accountant with Deloitte Haskins and Sells.

The groom earned an associate degree as a tool and dye maker and is working for Clear Tool and Dye Co. They are now residing in Belleville.

Jeannette Paterson wed in afternoon ceremony

Miss Jeannette Lynn Paterson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Paterson, 2019 Wilson Ave., became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Savery of Waukegan, on July 8, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Father Edward Groesch performed a double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar decorated with arrangements of summer flowers.

Jack Jenkins served as organist and soloist included Mel De Journett and Mary Ruth Paterson, a cousin of the bride. Wedding selections included "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," "You Light Up My Life," "We've Only Just Begun," "Evergreen," "Bridal Chorus" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Paterson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She chose a full length A-line gown created in white polyester featuring an Empire bodice with an inset of English lace traced with Venice lace and seed pearls.

The high neckline was edged in matching lace as was the slim skirt and chapel train. A lace cap at the shoulders enhanced the long tapered sleeves.

She wore a Venice lace floral cap to hold in place a fingertip veil edged with lace trim. Maid of honor was Miss Lea Ruth and bridesmaids included Miss Nancy Lucas, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Linda Paterson, both cousins of the bride, Miss Brenda Mueller, Mrs. Nancy Butcher of Moweaqua, Ill., and Mrs. Dena Browne of Columbia, Ill.

They were gownned alike in floor length A-line style apricot polyester dresses designed with Empire bodices, scoop necklines, and worn with chiffon caplets, enhanced with Venice lace.

The groom chose his brother, Steve Savery from Boulder, Colo., as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Frank Bilben, Scott Derreberry, David Luebke, Bradley Butcher, and Thomas Hines.

A reception and buffet dinner was given at the Polish Hall in Madison, with Miss Mary Ruth Paterson presiding over the guest book.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Savery, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Tony's Restaurant. Mrs. Paterson, mother of the bride, selected a mint green sleeveless gown complemented with a long sleeve jacket trimmed with pearls at the neckline and on the front. The groom's mother, Mrs. Savery, was attired in a turquoise polyester floor length chiffon dress worn with a poncho style overlay. Both mothers wore white rose corsages.

'Black Water' ... and rain ... again

For the second year in a row The Doobie Brothers came to the Mississippi River Festival and brought a rain storm with them. On Friday evening after opening act Toby Beau the rain began and by the time the Doobies sang 'Black Water' there was plenty of water on the audience. At left ... Doobie bassist Tiran Porter is silhouetted by a cloud of smoke as a large mirrored ball speckles the tent and audience with rays of light. Below ... Patrick Simmons, left, and Jeff Baxter, right, get into a double lead as drummer Keith Knudsen, center, helps with the vocals. Despite the rain and wind the crowd remained to the end to hear the Doobies perform two encores to top off the evening.

Health agency reviews criteria for scanners

Criteria and standards that will be used to review proposed plans for CT Scanner Services have been drafted by the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency and are available for public comment until Aug. 12.

They are based on a utilization study of CT Scanners in the St. Louis metropolitan region. According to Robert D. Finney, executive director of the HSA, "These criteria and standards will enable the agency to judge applications for CT Scanner services submitted for review. These review criteria will evaluate proposed projects on their consistency with the appropriate agency goals and priorities."

Persons who wish further information or who wish to obtain a copy of the draft document may write the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, 915 Olive, 15th Floor, St. Louis Mo. 63101, c/o Debbie Kling, Planning Associate, or call (314) 241-5810, ext. 213.

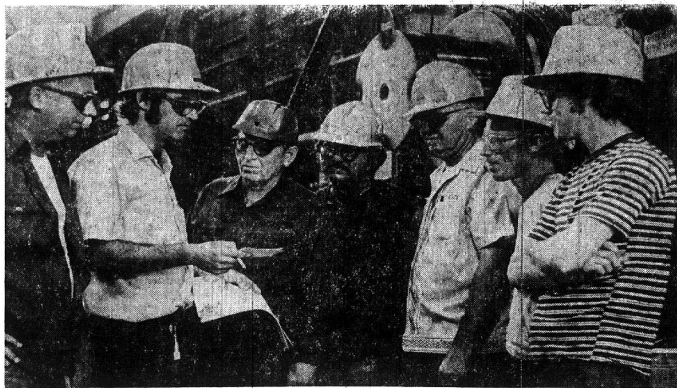

Comments will be accepted until Aug. 12 and the documents will then be revised as necessary and presented through the agency's committee structure. At its Aug. meeting, the Plan Development Committee of the agency will make final recommendations on the document before submitting it to the agency governing body.

The Health Systems Agency is the area's official health planning and resource development agency as authorized by the National Health Planning and Development Act of 1974.

The Health Systems Agency serves a nine county bi-state region, consisting of the Missouri counties of Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles, St. Louis and the City of St. Louis and the Illinois counties of Clinton, Monroe, Madison and St. Clair.

It is governed by a 60-member board of directors, that includes representatives of the health care from each of the counties served which are the agency's general assembly, a group open on application to any resident of the service area.

"A" feeder Hubbard Miller, roller Walt Padgett, "A" sticker Bob Smith and "B" feeder Larry Ross. Aim of the Sweepstakes is to help make employees more aware of safety.

Contest spurs safety incentive at GC Steel

A new safety contest under way at Granite City Steel offers U.S. Savings Bonds as prizes for the winners — but all employees may be winners as a result of the contest, because the plant should be a safer place to work.

The contest is called "Safety Sweepstakes." It rewards employees in departments which succeed in reducing the number of injuries below set monthly guidelines.

One winner of a $100 bond is chosen from among hourly personnel in each such department, while supervisors in such departments are eligible for one $50 bond.

The key to the Sweepstakes is the guide number for each of the company's four main working divisions. That number indicates the maximum number of lost-work-day injuries permitted for the month. In the primary division, it is 4; in the finishing division, 3; in maintenance, 3; and in the miscellaneous division, 0.

A lost-work-day injury is one in which an employee is forced to miss at least one day of his normal work schedule because of a plant injury. Should any division exceed its guide number for the month, there will be no award within that division for that month. If the division does not exceed its guide number, all employees working in departments within that division are eligible for the prize.

They must turn in special Sweepstakes entry cards to their supervisors. First awards — for the month of July — will be made on Aug. 7. Succeeding awards will be made the first Monday of each month.

Ruth Slenczynska on SIUE music program

Pianist Ruth Slenczynska will be one of five musicians performing in the fifth concert of the Summer Chamber Music Series, July 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The pianist, Mrs. James Kerr in private life, is a professor in the School of Fine Arts and Communications at SIUE. She has made thousands of concert appearances throughout the world and has cut more than 100 records. Her life story has been featured on television and in Reader's Digest, McCall's and Life magazines.

She has studied under such figures as Rachmaninoff, Artur Schnabel, Alfred Cortot, Egon Petri and Nadia Boulanger.

She holds the Polish Golden Cross of Merit "for bringing Chopin's music closer to the people of the world," and a fellowship in the International Academy of Arts and Letters at Geneva, Switzerland.

Other participants in the chamber series include Louisa Kallam, concertmaster of the St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra, 45 violinist, and three members of the department of music faculty at SIUE who have distinguished themselves as member of the Lincoln String Quartet: Joseph Pival, cello; Kent Perry, violin; and Robert Schieber, viola.

Selections for this concert include "Variations on Lee Rigg" by A. Reinagle, "Quintet in E-flat Major, Opus 4" by R. Schumann, and "Ballades" by F. Chopin.

Tickets for individual concerts are $1.50 for SIUE students with identification, $1.50 for senior citizens and $2 for others.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the University Cultural Arts Office at (618) 692-2096.
